In the field of genealogy few people can claim that a book or even a simple genealogical tree is entirely their own work product. This book is no exception and the number of people who have contributed to it is beyond recognition. This book is the result of the collection of bits and pieces sent to the author over several decades. In addition the collection of data by Mel Meek is particularly significant. The late Vera Wimberly contributed to this book and my entire genealogical effort. Finally Gary Childs conducted research and provided insight into my draft volumes.

The Meek Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Introduction

In the early 1830s a group of people name Meek settled in the remote northwest corner of Arkansas in what became today Carroll County. Jeremiah Meeks is listed in the tax records of IZARD County for the year 1831. Jacob Meeks is listed in 1832. These two settled in White TWP, Carroll Co., AR (later Newton County). These men were referred to by the historian Goodspeed (with negative connotations) as “Blue Jacob” Meeks and “Shotgun Jerry” Meeks.

In 1837 Jeremiah T. Meek and John E. Meek appear in the tax list for Carroll County. They settled in Osage Township. These men are believed to be the sons of Jacob Meek who died in 1824 Henry Co., TN. Jeremiah’s son Jacob A. Meek preceded the others to Carroll County having arrived in 1836. He would become one of the leading citizens of Carroll County.

These two families have been the subject of many genealogical efforts over the years. Many of those efforts contained conflicting and inaccurate information. In some cases the two families were hopelessly mixed up because the authors did not understand how many different Meek families came to Carroll County. In other cases the authors identified progenitors for these ancestors that, at best, can be described as gross speculation.

The purpose of this book is to explore what is factually known about these families and provide some order to the genealogies. In addition we will look at previous genealogies that may be noteworthy in establishing a foundation for this book.

The purpose of this book is to examine whether it is possible to identify the progenitor for these families and examine various claims made by previous authors. To that end it will be demonstrated that these families were part of a much larger group of Meek families that lived in other parts of the United States.

When one thinks about genealogical research scientific technology is not usually something that comes quickly to mind. Today genetic genealogy uses Y-DNA to identify related families. Through this tool it is possible to show which early ancestors were related and which ones were not related. DNA will not tell us exactly how the ancestors were related. However, it is a valuable tool that can help sort out many issues relating to the family tree. We will look at information that is available from DNA testing. That will tell us if the two families were related, what early group of Meek families they were related to and which groups they were not related to.

Many of the men in the families mentioned above were named Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek. Thus it is only natural to look for a progenitor with these names as others have done before. We will examine all men named Jacob Meek(s) and Jeremiah Meek(s) found in official records anywhere in the country.

There are some records from the early days in East Tennessee and near by areas of Kentucky that will hopefully be placed in context for these families. There are also records available for early Arkansas. The challenge is to demonstrate which Meek family any given record is connected to.

After examining what is known from official records we will look at various genealogies from the past. In the end we will present limited genealogies that will serve as a foundation for future research. It is not the purpose of this book to provide detailed family trees which proves and documents every connection. The focus is primarily on the earliest generations and sorting out what is known for a fact verses what is myth or incorrect genealogy. If the foundation or starting point for one's research is wrong that person will never succeed.

This author has depended on records and genealogies received from other researchers. In many cases these are only abstracts of records. No effort has been made to personally track down the original records. There is certainly additional research that needs to be completed. This book is intended to be a beginning not an end. It is hoped that this book will be a guide to future research.

What is presented here is somewhat unique in that the perspective is expansive than most genealogies and this book is based on the accumulated research of many Meek families not a single family or single branch. One of the easily observed problems of past researchers is that they did not understand the scope of people named Meek in pre-Revolutionary times. In addition past researchers seldom had the historical background to evaluate the sources they relied on. Hopefully this book will help in these areas. However, people must be aware that what is not known can mess up the best theory. And there are a lot of gaps in the information available at this time.

On a note of personal style: This author tends to ignore the "s" on Meeks in many cases especially where there is no clear indication that the family spelled the name that way. The name Meek is often misspelled in many official records. The "s" can be dropped or added randomly as one looks through records. Once it is determined that a family consistently uses Meeks every attempt has been made to be consistent in this book. However, the lack of an "s" on the name in earlier generations should not be seen as an affront. In all probability the name was originally spelled Meeke.

Chapter 1 Who Was Not Related

Because there were so many genealogies that erroneously identify the men in early Tennessee it is important to take a look at who could not have been related to the Arkansas families. Not only has modern research disproven many theories from the past but genealogists now have the benefit of DNA testing to prove conclusively that certain families were or were not related. It is a great advantage to know where not to focus our research efforts and this is something our predecessors did not have to their advantage.

Progenitor Myth

One can search almost anywhere for men named Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek and find more than one genealogy indicating a father named Jacob Meek born 1698 Lincolnshire, England the son of Adam Meek. These genealogies are all based, one way or the other, on a book by H. B. Meek published in 1902¹. That book listed 16 children for Jacob Meek including Jacob and Jeremiah. The book was based on anecdotal information and contained many errors. The author obtained some information from his uncle, Basel DeValle Meek born 1828, but it is not known where he obtained information on Jacob's children. In many cases there is so little information provided that it is not possible to identify a son as a known person named in official records.

In 1952 Carleton Meek wrote his book² which was based mainly on H. B. Meek's book in so far as the early generations were concerned. He provided additional information on some of the children but again did not base his book on factual data from recognized genealogical research. This author first published the article "The Progenitor Myth" in 2001, which provides an analysis that suggests there are numerous reasons to doubt the validity of the list of Jacob's children.

The Meek/Meeks Family Y-DNA Project was started in Nov 2004 and includes members who descend from seven of the supposed sons of Jacob Meek born 1698. DNA analysis demonstrates that these seven children alone came from 3 separate unrelated families.³ This cast serious doubt on the truthfulness of H. B. Meek's book. There is no reason to believe that any of the families detailed in the 1902 book descend from Jacob Meek son of Adam of Lincolnshire, England. In over 100 years of research since the 1902 book no one has found any documentation regarding the children of Jacob Meek from Lincolnshire, England. There is no evidence that he even came to the United States. It is this author's opinion that people have wasted valuable time and opportunity chasing this false story.

Similarly there is no documentation concerning the sons of Jacob Meek born 1717 the son of Guy Meek. This Jacob Meek has been given the same set of children assigned to Jacob Meek of Lincolnshire, England. However, this Jacob Meek himself is well documented in Maryland records and cannot be ruled out as a possible father of some of the supposed sons. The problem is proving a connection between any suspected son and Jacob Meek.

Many people have reported who the children of Jacob Meek were despite the fact that there is no evidence to support their claim. If any three men alive today claim to be a descendant of Jacob Meek from different sons that proposition can be tested by having them take a DNA test. If their results do not “match” then they do not share a common ancestor in the last 20 to 30 thousand years. They cannot possibly all be descendants of Jacob Meek. At least two of them are wrong and there is no way to determine which one might be a descendant of Jacob Meek at this point in time. This is exactly the situation that exists today.

No one can claim a connection to Jacob Meek because it is now known that the original source was wrong and no documentation is known to exist. Eventually a provable descendant of Guy Meek may be found. When that happens it will probably be known which group might be connected to Guy Meek I but not necessarily to Jacob Meek. He had several brothers and uncles.⁴ DNA will never be known for Jacob son of Adam Meek because there are simply no records to prove the connection. There is no way to prove the DNA came from the Adam Meek line.

Mecklenburg, NC/York Co., SC Families

There were a number of Meek(s) families in the Mecklenburg Co., NC/York Co., SC area in the 1770's and later. Some of these people emigrated directly from Ireland while others came from Maryland. The Maryland family generally settled in York County and it is known that some of them came from the family of Adam Meek of Cecil Co., MD.⁵

Alexander Meek was born 1764 (DNA Group C)
Son of Thomas Meek of Washington Co., MD.
He resided in Marshall Co., TN.

Adam Meek of Cecil Co., MD (DNA Group E)
Sons to York Co., SC then
McNairy Co., TN and Marshall Co., TN.

Moses Meek was born 1755 in Ireland (DNA Group E)
Settled in Mecklenburg Co., NC
Family to Dickenson Co., TN.

Adam Meek was born 1746 in Ireland (DNA Group E)
Settled in Mecklenburg Co., NC
Moved to Jefferson Co., TN.
(Wrote will of Moses b: 1755)

Some of the families listed above moved into East Tennessee but none of them are thought to be the source for the subjects of this book. All of them have rather extensive descendant charts. The names Jeremiah, Jacob are not found in these charts. In addition the DNA analysis indicates these families were not related to the subjects of this book who fit into DNA Group B⁶. As will be explained in Chapter 4 no man in one group can be related to a man in another group.

The subjects of this book are also not related to three Virginia families. William Meeks born was about 1725. His sons were Priddy, Athe, Nacy and Littleton. This family from North Carolina is in DNA Group F. Joseph Meek born 1744 resided in Washington Co., VA. He is one who has been reported as a son of Jacob Meek which seems unlikely given his placement in DNA Group E which is decidedly Irish rather than English. John Meek born 1708 resided in Augusta Co., VA and matches DNA Group C.

The Allegheny Co., PA Family

DNA Group A comprises four brothers who settled in Allegheny Co., PA in the early 1770's as well as the family of Jeremiah Meek who died in Westmoreland Co., PA in 1783⁷. They include:

Joshua Meek born 1731 - Basil Meek born 1740 MD

John Meek born about 1754 MD - Jacob Meek born 1755 MD

Basil, John and Jacob have been shown to be brothers through traditional genealogical research as well as DNA analysis. All three moved to Henry Co., KY. Jacob later moved to Wayne Co., IN. Jacob Meek has a continuous paper trail and never lived in Tennessee. Joshua remained in Allegheny County. He lived adjacent to John and Jacob but thus far there is neither genealogical or DNA evidence to connect him to the others. Basil moved to York Co., SC before Kentucky and will be discussed later.

Jacob was the father of Jeremiah Lee Meek born 1780 who is sometimes mentioned in genealogies of the Tennessee families. Again his life was fairly well documented in addition to having written his own history of his life. He did not live in Tennessee or Arkansas. However since early researchers incorrectly stated that one of the Jeremiah's living in Carroll Co., AR had the middle initial "L" they incorrectly assumed that this was Jeremiah Lee Meek son of Jacob Meek born 1755.

John also had a son named Jeremiah who was born about 1776. He moved to Wayne Co., IN and later lived in Hancock Co., IN. He was a probate judge in both places and his history is well known.

Jeremiah Meeks owned land in Allegheny County but moved to nearby Westmoreland Co., PA. He died in 1783 and Ralph Cherry was appointed administrator of his estate. Jeremiah's probable sons were John, Joshua and Jeremiah who all owned land next to him in Westmoreland County. Jeremiah's relationship to the four brothers in Allegheny County is unknown although it appears likely that they were related. However, he could not have been their father given that his probable sons had the same names.

Jeremiah is often identified as the progenitor of the Tennessee family. This is almost certainly incorrect. His presence in Allegheny and Westmoreland Counties as well as his date of death in Westmoreland County would seem to preclude a migration to Tennessee.

⁶ The Meek Family Y-DNA Project

⁷ Christopher A. Meek, The Meek/Meeks Family of Maryland, Pennsylvania and Kentucky, (2006)

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

In addition his DNA would probably not match that of the Tennessee families. However, because Carleton Meek incorrectly stated that this Jeremiah went to Tennessee⁸ many people have incorrectly assumed that he was one of the men named Jeremiah in Carroll Co., AR if not the progenitor of the Tennessee/Arkansas families.

According to an early history of Fairfield Co., OH Ann Meek, the wife of Ralph Cherry, had parents named Jeremiah and Sarah Meeks⁹. At least one early researcher incorrectly gave Sarah the nickname Stella. This is probably due to another incorrect fact that Jeremiah Meek born 1776, son of Nathaniel Meek, was married to Sally Roberts nicknamed Stella. Actually Jeremiah was married to Nancy Roberts and his brother Nathan was married to Sally Roberts. Someone combined the two people named Jeremiah, and two incorrect facts and then assumed that the progenitor of the Tennessee family was Jeremiah Meek married to Stella. This was not the only misconstruing of facts for the Tennessee family.

Jeremiah's son Joshua moved to Fairfield Co., OH with Ralph Cherry. It is not known what happened to the sons John and Jeremiah. Since it is not known what happened to the son Jeremiah one cannot rule out a migration to Kentucky or Tennessee. However, like his father and brothers his DNA would not match the families which are the subject of this book.

In summary there was a large family living in early S. W. Pennsylvania who had similar names to those of the Tennessee/Arkansas families. In addition the names were not common for people named Meek prior to 1800. However, DNA analysis as well as the genealogical records clearly precludes the possibility that the two groups of people were related. Even allowing for the uncertain paper trail for Jeremiah he did not go to Tennessee. None of the ancestors listed in Table 1 went to Tennessee or Arkansas.

Chapter Two Early Records

Genealogist Joseph L. Meek wrote a letter in 1965 indicating that three men named Jacob Meek, Jeremiah Meek and Basil Meek came from Hagerstown, MD and settled in York County near other Meek families¹⁰. This appears to be pure speculation. The genealogist had a series of deed records from York Co., SC to Blount Co., TN dated over a 30 year period of time and assumed that they all concerned the same individuals that were related. It is this author's opinion that this genealogist or the records he cited in addition to Carleton Meek's book are the reasons for many genealogies assuming that a man named Jacob or Jeremiah Meek(s) was the progenitors of the Tennessee Meek family.

A deed record dated 19 Jun 1770 conveys land on Garnmore Creek, north of the Broad River to Basil Meek. Basil later joined the Army in Virginia and served in S. W. Pennsylvania before returning to York Co., SC. It is now known that the Basil Meek in York Co., SC was Basil Meek born 1740 in Maryland¹¹. It is also known that Basil Meek sold his land in 1805 and moved to Henry Co., KY. He is often confused with Basil Meek born 1763 who will be discussed later. Some early genealogists apparently did not know about Basil Meek born 1740 and incorporated information about him into the history of Basil Meek born 1763, including his place of birth and military record. DNA analysis shows that the two men named Basil were not related. Additionally Basil born 1740 was not related to the Maryland families living in York Co., SC or early immigrants living in Mecklenburg, NC.

Basil Meek born 1740 has been documented to be a brother of John Meek born about 1754 and Jacob Meek born 1755¹². These men along with others in DNA Group A were discussed above.

A deed record dated 20 May 1773 conveys land on Garnmore Creek to Jeremiah Meek. There is no known record concerning what happened to this Jeremiah Meek. Garnmore Creek is near Bullock's Creek where the Meek families from Cecil Co., MD resided in York Co., SC. There is a 1 Dec 1778 record on 35 days military service. The last known record of this Jeremiah on the Broad River was a note on military pay dated 17 Sep 1784.

Contrary to many claims it is not known who this Jeremiah was. He could not have been a son of Basil based on Basil's date of birth of 1740. Jeremiah was an adult by 1752-1755 based on the 1773 deed record. He could conceivably have been Basil's brother or father. However, this would be pure speculation.

There is no evidence known to this author that there was a person named Jacob Meek on or near Garnmore Creek with Basil and Jeremiah during the 1770's.

Blount Co., Tennessee

A person named Jeremiah Meek appears in Greene Co., TN court records in 1784. Greene Co. TN County Pleas & Quarter Sessions August Term Minutes 1784, Page 25 mentions a law suit involving Jeremiah Meek. In the Nov Term Jeremiah Meek served on a jury.

A person named Jeremiah Meek received land grant #2014 in 1787 for 400 acres on Lick Creek, Holston River. He sold his land 10 Sep 1796 according to the Greene Co., TN Deed Book #6. The deed indicates that he was a resident of Blount Co., TN. (Blount County was formed in 1795 from Knox County. Knox County was formed in 1792 from Greene County.) It is assumed that this person was born before 1764 and possibly much earlier. He may or may not be the same person who owned land in South Carolina on Garnmore Creek. However, it is noted that the universe of known men named Jeremiah Meek(s) born before 1780 is very small (See Table 3).

Jeremiah's 1796 deed was witnessed by James Swagerty. The marriage bond of James Swagerty and Delilah Meek was signed in Greene Co., TN on 30 Aug 1796. James married Delilah Meek 6 Sep 1796 according marriage records. It is not known who Delilah's father was but she was born 5 Apr 1773 according to Swagerty bible records¹³. Given what is known about other Meek families in the area, Jeremiah Meek is the most likely candidate for her father¹⁴. If true and it is a big if, the significance is that Jeremiah would have been born before 1755. Of course Jeremiah could also have been Delilah's brother, cousin or not related at all. The relationship remains unknown.

A person named Jacob Meek signed a petition for a new state in East Tennessee in 1782.

Abstraction of the Petition of the Inhabitants of the Western Country to the North Carolina General Assembly from Genealogical Record p109 September 1983. (From Journal of House of Representatives, Jan 8, 1782 to Feb 26, 1782: Edited by A. S. Salley, Jr., Historical Commission of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.)

This petition of the Inhabitants of North Carolina area west of the Appalachian Mountains was for the creation of a new government or state due to the numerous hardships and distances the people had to traverse in order to transact business with the governing body. Names of signing the pet follow.

Signed (among others) Jacob Meek, Ashel Rawlings, John Galbreath, Michael Rawlings

We do not know who this Jacob Meek was or where he lived. The name Michael Rawlings appears 29 years later in an 1811 Bledsoe Co., TN deed for Jacob Meek who moved to Henry Co., TN. See Chapter 7.

¹³ "Tennessee Ancestors", August 1986, Vol. 2, p 126-127 & AncestralJournals.com by Iris Teta Eubank Wagner

¹⁴ Delilah's father would have been born before 1755 and possibly earlier. Delilah may or may not have been with her parents when she was married. The other Meek ancestor known to be in East Tennessee in 1796 was Adam Meek born about 1746. He married his known wife in 1781. There is no evidence that he had any children before that date. He is in DNA Group E and was not related the Meeks families from Carroll Co., AR.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

In 1795 and 1796 Jacob Meek serves on a jury in Blount Co., TN according to court records. On Dec 9 1796 Jacob Meek was bondsman for the marriage of John Roberts and Rachel Robenett. It is not clear if these records refer to the same person or how old that person may have been. However, a person named Jacob Meek did live in Blount County at the same time that Jeremiah, who sold his land on Lick Creek, lived in Blount County.

A person named Jeremiah Meek married Betsy Blevins on 8 Feb 1802 in Blount Co., TN according to court records¹⁵. John Kee was the bondsman. It is noted that John Kee was also the surety for Peter Roberts on 9 Mar 1801. Jeremiah's age was not listed in the record and it is not possible to determine if this was the same person who sold land in 1796. It is possible that there were two men named Jeremiah Meek in Blount County around 1800. It is possible that the man who married Betsy Blevins was a young man who was not old enough to purchase land in 1787. It is also possible but not proven that the two men were father and son.

The only thing that is proven, at this point in time, is that there were two men named Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek living in Blount County around 1800. There is no proof what their relationship was or even if they were related. Their ages are not proven. Finally, there is no hard evidence concerning where they came from or where they went.

Kentucky Records

Census records for some of the grandchildren of Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN suggest that the family lived in Kentucky. The 1799 tax list of Cumberland Co., KY names Jacob Meek Sr., Jacob Meek Jr. and Jeremiah Meek all over the age of 21. Also listed with Jeremiah is one male age 16-21.

1800 Cumberland Co. Census (from 1799 Tax List South of Cumberland River):

Meek, Jacob Sr. over 21 - Cumberland River

Meek, Jacob Jr. over 21 - Cumberland River

Meek, Jeremiah 1 over 21; 1 16/21; on Smith Creek

Land grants south of the Green River became available in 1797. Requirements included being 21 and a resident for one year¹⁶. Jeremiah Meek received certificate #772 on August 25, 1798 for land on Smith Creek. He assigned this land to Edward Beck on January 14, 1799. On October 26, 1799 David Roberson assigns certificate #687 to Jacob Meek.¹⁷ Cumberland County deed records from 1816 indicate that Jacob Meek of Bledsoe Co., TN sold his land. It will be shown that this Jacob Meek can be identified as the person who died in Henry Co., TN in 1824.

“The Commission for Settlement South of Green River” issued warrant #687 to David Roberson for 200 acres of land located in Cumberland co., Ky. in Stogdons Valley on the Clear Fork of Spring Creek waters of Spring Creek Obeys River. on August 25, 1798. Survey # 1966 for this land was done by virtue of warrant # 687 on October 10, 1799. On October 26, 1799 Roberson assigned this 200 acres to Jacob Meek. Grant # 1966 was issued to Jacob for this land on January 14, 1815.

Jeremiah Meek: 100 acres on Goose Creek, Entered Unknown

The tax records are hard to interpret. The records are not consistent from one year to the next and do not always include the water way or number of acres. Also complicating the matter Nathaniel Meek had a son named Jeremiah. However in 1803 “Jeremiah son of Nathan” is listed in addition to Jacob Meek, Jeremiah Meek and Jeremiah Meek Jr. Neither Nathaniel nor Basil had a son named Jacob as far as can be determined. Basil did not have a son named Jeremiah and his children were not born until 1797 and later.

It seems unlikely that there were two separate sets of men name Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek in Cumberland and Pulaski counties in addition to the men in Blount Co., TN. There are no later records anywhere to support three sets of men with those names.

Jeremiah of Cumberland County sold his land on January 14, 1799. The records indicate that people in the area were selling or exchanging land. All of the Meeks in Cumberland and Pulaski Counties lived in close proximity to each other. It is believed that Jacob Meek Sr. and Jeremiah Meek of Cumberland County relocated to Pulaski County about 1800. In addition, Jacob's daughter Nancy married John Jones on 5 Dec 1800 in Cumberland County.¹⁸

While the three names in Cumberland County do not translate perfectly to Pulaski County it is believed that they are the same basic set of people. Jeremiah had a male age 16 to 21 living with him in Cumberland County and he sold his land in 1799. These two could have been Jeremiah Sr. and Jeremiah Jr. in the Pulaski County tax records. Jacob Sr. could have been the Jacob Meek of Cumberland County, Bledsoe Co., TN and later Henry Co., TN. Even though he does not officially transfer his land in Cumberland County for some time he is likely the person in the Pulaski County tax records who appears to leave the area for Tennessee in 1805. Jacob Jr. of Cumberland County could have been the son of either Jeremiah or Jacob. His presence or lack of presence does not alter the hypothesis that Jacob and Jeremiah moved to Pulaski County.

Jacob Meek last appears in the Pulaski County tax records in August 1805. It is believed that Jacob Meek of Cumberland Co., KY purchased land in Overton Co., TN in 1805.

Overton Co., TN deed records:

2 Dec 1805 George Gordon of Greene Co., TN to Jacob Meek of Jackson Co., TN for 400 acres on Eagle Creek (Pickett County line). Recorded May 1810.

26 Feb 1808 Jacob Meek to Harris Hatcher¹⁹

Overton Co., TN and Cumberland Co., KY joined each other on the state border at one time. This land is 12 miles south of Jacob's land in Cumberland County (now Clinton County). It is noted that the boundary dispute between Kentucky and Tennessee was not settled until 1820. Overton County was formed from Jackson County in 1806 thus explaining the reference to Jacob Meek of Jackson Co., TN. Jacob sells this land in 1808 as indicated above.

Jacob Meek arrived in Bledsoe County when the county was first opened to settlers. He is listed in Tennessee Homesteaders and Landowners by Willis Hutcherson on page 15.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Eli Keith was the son-in-law of Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN. Jacob Meek purchased 56 acres on Sequatchee River in Bledsoe County in 1811 for $150.00 from John Julian. The deed was witnessed by Michael Rawlings and David Gilbreath²⁰.

Jacob Meek signed a petition in Bledsoe County on behalf of John Julian and others on 21 Feb 1813²¹. Also signing, among others, was Jacob Meek, John Meek, Jacob Meek Sn., and Jeremiah Meek. Eli Keith also signed. Knox Co., TN court minutes No. 3A 1810-1817 refer to the same petition. This record also name Mary Meek, Sally Meek and Henry Meek in addition to Jacob and Jeremiah.

Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN 10 Aug 1824 was married to Mary²². He had sons named John E., Jacob W., Jeremiah T. and Henry. Sally was a daughter and Eli Keith married Jacob's daughter, Elizabeth. This would seem to tie Jacob Meek from Cumberland Co., KY to the Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN because the names of his wife and children appear in both the Bledsoe County petition and the records relating to Jacob's estate.

Jeremiah Meeks received a land grant in White Co., TN 23 Jan 1816²³. White County is in the same area and this is assumed to be Jacob's son, Jeremiah.

There is also evidence of additional members of the Pulaski County family. William Meek born about 1765 received a grant for 200 acres 7 Aug 1798 on Elk Spring Creek. In 1815 he was taxed on 100 acres on Wolf Creek issued to Nathaniel Sr. He is in the tax records through 1823 and a probable son Samuel is listed in the 1850 Wayne Co., KY census.

Henry Co., Tennessee

Jacob Meek moved to Henry Co., TN between 1816 and 1822. On 15 Oct 1822 he purchased 500 acres on the Middle Fork of the Obion River in Range 4, Section 6 entered by Polk and Deveraux.²⁴ Jacob Meek appears to have moved frequently and/or owned land in several places. It is not known why he moved his family to Henry County. He died in 1824. On 8 Sep 1824 Henry Meek was appointed administrator for Jacob Meek.²⁵

Jacob's wife was name Mary according to a probate record dated 8 Feb 1825. The probate record appears to have partitioned part of his 500 acre property and each child was given, in addition to other things, 16 and 2/3 acres. Jacob W. Meek, John E. Meek, Jeremiah Meek, Isaac Meek and Henry Meek are found in deed records selling that land mostly to their brother-in-law John Witt.

The major document is a deed assigning 200 acres of Jacob's original 500 to John E. Meek. It names most of the heirs. With the exception of a couple of daughters mentioned in the deeds above there is no direct proof of who Jacob's children were. However, the probate and deed records are fairly persuasive that they addressed his estate and his wife and children.

Fifteen years later his family leaves Henry County. Jeremiah and John went to Carroll Co., AR in 1837 and John apparently dies before 1850. Isaac died about 1832.²⁶ Henry is in Gibson Co., TN in 1840. It is not known what happened to Jacob W. Jeremiah's children are known. However, it is not known who the children of the John and Jacob were, with one possible exception. This should be a matter of great interest to researchers. There may have been 11 sons that are unknown and likely carried on the Meek name. Imagine the genealogical information their descendants might have.

Cape Girardeau Co., Missouri

Jacob and Jeremiah Meek do not appear in records of Blount Co., TN after 1802. Their whereabouts was unknown until they apparently appeared in the 1831 tax list of IZARD CO., AR. The 1830 census of Cape Girardeau, MO lists Jacob Meek age 50-60 with five sons age 5 to 20 and four females age 0 to 15. There is no direct evidence of who this Jacob Meek was. However, also listed were Isham Blevins, Richard Blevins, Squire Blevins, John Roberts and Aaron Roberts. These men were in the Blount County area with Jacob Meek. Jacob Meek was the bondsman for John Roberts in 1796 and Jeremiah Meek marries Betsy Blevins in 1802. These same men appear in the IZARD Co., AR tax list with the Meeks after 1831. It is not known where Jeremiah Meek was in 1830.

Despite a slight discrepancy in Jacob's age from other records it is noted that the name Jacob Meek was fairly uncommon during and before this time period. It appears that this group of people migrated together from East Tennessee to Carroll Co., AR.

Men named Jeremiah Meek and Jacob Meek

While looking into the progenitor of the Tennessee families, one is drawn to genealogies with men named Jacob Meek(s) and Jeremiah Meek(s). In that regard it is important to understand just how many men named Jacob Meek(s) and Jeremiah Meek(s) can be found in official records. Table 2 and Table 3 represent this author's experience over many years of research. There may be others who missed the records keepers but one can observe that the universe of men with these names born before 1785 is very small.

The list of men named Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek that are documented include some men where genealogical information is available and some men where the name appears in a single record. Those with genealogical information might include a proven father, proven children or both. The former are labeled "Identified" men and the latter are labeled "unidentified" men.

Jacob Meek born 1717 was the son of Guy Meek of Anne Arundel Co., MD²⁷. Guy Meek was a third generation Maryland resident who had documented sons named Isaac born 1710, Nathan born 1715 and Jacob born 1717. Contrary to what many have written there is no evidence regarding who Jacob's sons were.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Very little is known about Jacob Meek of Somerset Co., MD except that he lived in that county in 1771 and his wife's name was Sarah.

With the exception of Jacob Meek born 1717 and Jacob Meek of Carroll Co., AR (Blue Jacob) all of the identified men named Jacob Meek have descendants who have been DNA tested or they have a genealogical connection to someone tested. Each of them matches DNA signature of DNA Group B. A proven descendant of the Guy Meek extended family has not been found. When one is found he may or may not match one of the existing DNA Groups.

With the exception of one man in Maryland all of the unidentified men named Jacob Meek were located in S. W. Pennsylvania, the area around Pulaski Co., KY and Blount Co., TN. These men were discussed earlier.

Men named Jeremiah Meek are more complex. Jeremiah who died in 1773 lived in Westmoreland Co., PA next to Joshua, John and Jeremiah Jr. according to deed records. While there is very little hard evidence about him he is believed to be the father of the three men who lived next to him. A descendant of Joshua is in DNA Group A discussed earlier. Jeremiah is believed to be the same person who sold land in Allegheny Co., PA next to Jacob (4) also in Group A. Since he lived and died in Westmoreland Co., PA he could not have been any of the men in Tennessee as suggested by several early authors.

Jeremiah (3) appears to have lived in and died in Anne Arundel Co., Md. His will leave the impression that he was unmarried and without children. There is some question as to his age but he clearly did not go to Tennessee. The remaining identified men named Jeremiah Meek were contemporaries of the men in Carroll Co., AR.

Jeremiah Meek of unknown age married Sarah Lee in 1731 Ann Arundel Co., MD. Nothing more is known about him. He may have been the man who died in 1773 Westmoreland Co., PA or one of the men in 1773 South Carolina or 1787 East Tennessee. There is insufficient data available to know if he ever left Maryland.

The unidentified men named Jeremiah Meek in East Tennessee and Kentucky were discussed previously. The only remaining men named either Jacob Meek or Jeremiah Meek were found in S. W. Pennsylvania. In addition to Jeremiah Meek Jr. in Mt. Pleasant TWP, Westmoreland Co., PA a man named Jacob Meek appeared in the 1783 tax list of Tyrone Township. Nothing is known about him except a man named Isaac Meek had previously lived in Tyrone Township.

1783 tax list Bethlehem TWP, Washington Co., PA list a man named Jacob Meek who is excluded from being the sons of other men living in the county. 1783 tax list Morgan TWP, Washington Co., PA list a man named Jeremiah Meek. Also listed in Morgan Township tax list was Nathan Meek who later resided in Pulaski Co., KY.

Chapter 3

The Arkansas Records

Family 1a-Jeremiah T. Meek

In 1837 Jeremiah T. Meek and John E. Meek appear in the tax list for Carroll County. They settled in Osage Township. These men are believed to be the sons of Jacob Meek who died in 1824 Henry Co., TN. The names and ages as given in census records match including a younger Jeremiah and Jacob A. Meek. In addition some of Jeremiah's children were reportedly born in Kentucky with most being born in Tennessee. This is consistent with the Henry County Family.

Jeremiah's son Jacob A. Meek preceded the others to Carroll County having arrived in 1836. He would become one of the leading citizens of Carroll County.²⁸ Thus the 1840 census lists Jeremiah T. Meek, his son Jacob A. Meek as well as John E. Meek and Jeremiah Meek Jr. who is likely a son of John. The 1841 tax list also names Samuel Meek another son of Jeremiah T. Meek.

The 1850 census for Carroll County lists Jeremiah with his sons William W. Meek and Joseph J. Meek "at home" as well as sons Jacob A. Meek and Samuel S. Meek with their separate families. John E. Meek from the previous records is not present but Jeremiah Meek born 1806 is listed. Jacob A. Meek and Samuel S. Meek stayed in Carroll County. However, Jeremiah T. Meek and his son Joseph moved to Bell Co., TX shortly after 1850.

Jeremiah T. Meek was born about 1788 according to the 1850 census. He married Elizabeth Spencer 5 Sep 1809 according to his Bell Co., TX divorce record. Their first child was born in 1811. This Jeremiah Meek could not have been the person who married Betsy Blevins in 1802 Blount Co., TN. The history of this family clearly cast serious doubt on that proposition. However, modern day genealogists are forced to confront incorrect information everywhere they look. They need to avoid the temptation to think that because one bad genealogy has been copied so many times it must be correct. There were two men named Jeremiah Meek in Carroll Co., AR and both had wives named Elizabeth.

Jeremiah, John, Jacob and Henry were listed in the 1830 census of Henry Co., TN. Also listed was a younger Jeremiah who is believed to be a son of John. Henry was listed in the 1840 and 1850 censuses of Gibson Co., TN. Jacob had 7 males under the age of 20 and one age 20-30. John had 4 males living with him and in 1840 he had 2 males under the age of 20. None of these males have ever been identified with the possible exception of Jeremiah Meek born 1806.

Family 1b-Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob

Jeremiah Meeks is listed in the tax records of IZARD County for the years 1831 to 1833 and 1837. Jacob Meeks is listed in 1832 to 1833 and 1837. Jacob is also listed in the 1840 census for Carroll. Carroll County was formed from IZARD County in 1833.

It is known that northwest Arkansas played a role in the migration of the Indian population to the west. It would appear that Jacob and Jeremiah were associated with the Indians according to the published history of Carroll County.

History of Northwest Arkansas, Carroll Co. Page 335, Goodspeed Publishing:

"1832 on Long Creek below Carrollton. There were then living in the vicinity of Carrollton, Martin Standridge, his father, "Shot-Gun" Jerry Meeks and his brother, "Blue" Jacob Meeks, "Black Squire Blevins, Richard Blevins, Sam Blevins & others of Cherokee & English descent, whose society was not appreciated by their neighbors. They were from Georgia and had not been living in this county many years prior to 1832."

ibid. p. 339: "REGULATORS: A company of regulators was organized by the citizens of Carrollton and vicinity in the spring of 1839, with Thomas A. Clarke as captain. It numbered twenty or thirty members. The object was to suppress stealing and punish the miscreants, a community of half-breed Cherokees. Several were whipped and compelled to leave the county. Two or three confessed, promised reformation, and were permitted to stay. After accomplishing the object of its organization the company disbanded."

While some members of the group may have been from Georgia there is little evidence that the Meeks came from Georgia although it is possible that they were there briefly prior to their arrival in Arkansas. Census records indicate that the children of Jacob and Jeremiah were born in Tennessee through 1828. The 1865 census of Kansas indicated that son Lorenzo was born in East Tennessee.

It is known that many families came from east Tennessee as did some of the Indian population. Richard Blevins, Isham Blevins, Squire Blevins, John Roberts, Aaron Roberts and Jacob Meek all came from Tennessee and were reported in the 1830 census of Cape Girardeau, MO. A couple of years later they are all found in Carroll Co., AR. This tends to support the census records indicating that the Meeks also came from Tennessee.

Jacob and Jeremiah Meeks settled in White TWP, Carroll Co., AR. Jacob was listed in the 1840 tax list of Carroll County age 70-80. Several of the sons are also listed including Jeremiah's son, John Meek, who was born about 1806 according to the 1850 census. Listed with him was a male age 60-70. It is assumed that this was Jeremiah and fixes his date of birth between 1771 and 1780. Unfortunately this is all that is known about Jeremiah and it leaves considerable uncertainty about this date and place of his birth. He does not appear in any records after 1840. White township became part of Newton County in 1842.

Jacob Meeks left Arkansas about 1845 and was listed in the 1850 census of Navarro Co., TX living with his son Jacob. His age was listed as 85 but his place of birth was "not known". His suspected sons lived in the immediate vicinity. Three of them had children born in Texas in 1846 and 1847.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Also listed in Navarro County was Polly Meek age 36, and her children. Later records show that she was the wife of William Meek born 1818. She was closely associated with two of Jacob's sons. William's absence in the 1850 census is a mystery because he does not die until 1863. There was another William Meek born in 1821 in Milam Co., TX with Jeremiah's other sons. It is not clear which William was reported in the 1840 census of Carroll C., AR but William born 1818 was married there and the census ages match his family structure.

In 1840 Jacob had two males age 15-20(1820-1825)

It appears that Jeremiah did not survive to be recorded in the 1850 census. With the exception of Jeremiah Jr. most of his suspected sons are listed in the 1850 census of Milam Co., TX. Jeremiah Jr. remained in Arkansas and appears in the census of Newton County. Based on the place of birth for Jeremiah's grandchildren it appears that Lewis preceded the family to Milam Co., TX about 1845 about the same time that Jacob and his sons left Arkansas. The remaining sons of Jeremiah migrated to Texas about 1849.

The names of Jeremiah's children have not been proven to this author's satisfaction. However, from the records that are available, namely the 1840 and 1850 censuses, a reasonable list of sons can be developed. John, Moses, Jeremiah, and Lewis were listed in the 1840 census. William and Squire was not listed. The younger Jeremiah had an additional male age 20-30 living with him who may have been a brother. Moses was listed as age 30-40 and also listed was a male age 20-30 who could not have been his son.

There were three other men named Meek living in 1850 Milam County. George age 26 KY and Richard age 28 AL lived in the same household. A descendant of George has Y-DNA that matches that of a descendant of Jeremiah Meek. Y-DNA does not prove that Jeremiah was the father of George. It is assumed that he would also match descendants of Jacob Meek and there were also other matching ancestors in other parts of the country. Given his location in Milam Co., TX George is listed as a son of Jeremiah.

Also listed in this census was Jacob C. Meek age 23 TN wife Mary A. age 17 MS. This person is frequently listed as a son of Jacob but he clearly is not the Jacob Meek Jr. listed with Jacob in the 1850 census of Navarro Co., TX (see above).

Proving who the children of Jacob and Jeremiah were is a task that many people have worked on. It is not known to this author if someone has found marriage licenses or some other documents for the children that mention the parents. Records for this family are scarce and existing genealogies are incomplete and contradictory. The grouping in the 1850 census would seem to represent two separate families. However, one cannot preclude the possibility that the two families intermingled as they moved west.

Summary

In the 1830's two families came to Carroll Co., AR from Tennessee. It is assumed that Blue Jacob and Shotgun Jerry who settled in White Township were related and possibly brothers. Until recently it seemed unlikely that they were related to sons of Jacob Meek, who died in Henry Co., TN, whose sons settled in Osage Township. They appeared to be on opposite ends of the social spectrum. It is known now through DNA analysis of descendants of Jacob Meek of Henry Co., TN and Jeremiah Meek of White TWP, AKA Shotgun Jerry, were related. Expressed in the proper way, they shared a common Meek ancestor. It is not known who that ancestor was or when he lived.

Jacob Meek of Henry Co., TN and his sons who settled in Osage Township, Carroll Co., AR are fairly well documented at this point in time. They came from Cumberland Co., KY. Where Jacob came from before that is unknown. However, it is noted that there were related Meek families living in near by Pulaski Co., KY according to the DNA project. At least one of these men came from Washington Co., PA.

Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek of White Township, Carroll Co., AR are less well documented. It appears that they came from Tennessee based on the place of birth for their children in the census records. Their children were born between 1806 and 1827. In addition they associated with the same people, like John Roberts, in Blount Co., Co, TN and Carroll Co., AR. There is no direct proof that they were the men who lived in Blount Co., TN or that Jeremiah married Betsy Blevins. Unfortunately, they avoided the record keepers between 1810 and 1830 except for Jacob in the 1830 census. At the same time there does not appear to be any other Meek family with these names in Tennessee except for the Henry County family.

There were other Meek/Meeks families living in Tennessee as noted in Chapter 1. However, they have been proven to be unrelated by genealogy and/or DNA evidence. Therefore it is a reasonable hypothesis that the Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek who lived in White TWP, Carroll Co., AR were the same men who lived in Blount Co., TN around 1800.

What is unclear is whether the family in Blount Co., TN knew the family in Henry Co., TN. There is no evidence that they did. The DNA signature of both descendants is slightly different suggesting that there may have been several generations to a common ancestor. This matter needs more DNA participants and further genealogical study.

What is this DNA Stuff All About?

In November 2004 a group of people researching their Meek(s) genealogy became interested in using DNA to help sort out the information they had collected. They joined together and began looking at the DNA results as a group. The members of the project came from seemingly unrelated families but did form smaller groups one of which was descendants of the settlers of S. W. Pennsylvania.

Y-DNA is passed down from one generation to the next through the male line relatively unchanged. Changes that do occur are passed down to subsequent generations. It is possible to compare the DNA from two living individuals and determine if they have a common ancestor within a given time frame. DNA will not reveal who that common ancestor might have been or exactly when he lived. When the results of the tests are looked at for groups of people it is possible to determine not only who is related but who is not related. This narrows the focus of one's genealogical research. However, it still requires old fashioned genealogical research to define the actual relationship.

Although the Meek Family Y-DNA Project involves a relatively small number of people, significant results were reported within few years. In one regard the results were difficult to interpret due to the lack of a paper trail to connect members with matching DNA. However, the overall results were impressive. The results confirmed existing genealogies of some individuals and disproved theories of a couple of others. More importantly they showed connections between families that were previously unknown. They also showed that some people thought to be related to certain families were actually not related to those families at all.

This is the case with the families named Meek from S. W. Pennsylvania. More specifically, the DNA results prove that the men listed as sons of Jacob Meek in the 1902 book by H. B. Meek were not all related to each other. At this point it is known that there were at least three totally different unrelated families that the early author combined to come up his list of sons.

Thus far seven distinct groups of U. S. ancestors have been identified with several members not matching any of these groups. Some of these groups and different ancestors are briefly detailed in Chapter 1. The subjects of this book are listed in DNA Group B. DNA analysis has established without any doubt that the family that settled in Osage Township, Carroll Co., AR and the family that settled in White Township, Carroll Co., AR were related to each other and to the group of men who settled in Washington Co., PA in the 1770's. The Washington County ancestors who have been tested are listed in Table 7. They are probably well known to genealogists searching for men named Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Contrary to what has been written in many genealogies it is not known where the men from Washington Co., PA came from or who the progenitor was. However, it is now known that they were part of a large family that included the families from Carroll Co., AR as well as a couple of later ancestors from Baltimore, MD.

DNA proves these men were related. How they were related is unknown.

Y-DNA testing involves examining a small number of DNA pieces known as “markers”. The result that the participant receives is expressed as a series of numbers such as 13, 24, 14, 11, 11, 14 etc. The entire set of number, one for each marker, is known as a haplotype, DNA signature or the DNA profile. When there is a group of related people tested it is possible to determine the modal or ancestral haplotype for the group. The more people tested the more accurate the results. The ancestral haplotype is a representation of what the DNA of the common ancestor might have looked like.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

The DNA result for the descendant of Jeremiah Meek from White Township, Carroll Co., AR matches the Group B ancestral haplotype perfectly. The ancestral haplotype was established through multiple test from descendants of four of the five Group B ancestors who resided in Washington Co., PA during the 1770's.

The DNA result for three proven descendants of two sons of Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., KY establishes an ancestral haplotype for Jacob Meek. He deviates from the Group B ancestral haplotype on two markers. Those two deviations are the results of mutations. What is not known is when those mutations occurred. This is a very important question as it relate to time to the most recent common ancestor (TMRCA). However a lack of mutations does not prove a closer relationship.

The two mutations carried by Jacob Meek taken together are unique in Group B. The implication is that common ancestor for Jacob Meek and the other ancestors in Group B could have been several generation further back in time. Indeed the common ancestor for all of group B could have been many generations back in time. However, it is clearly demonstrated by Jacob Meek's ancestral haplotype. Some of the Meek men in Washington County may have been brothers as the early authors suggested. But they just as easily could have been first or second cousins.

A group of three Maryland Meek ancestors born between 1808 and 1824 match the Group B ancestral haplotype with a mutation in one marker. The significance of this is not known because it is only one marker and the relationship between the ancestors is unknown. However, the picture that appears to be emerging is one of a large complex Meek family extending throughout the country in the 1700's and early 1800's.

In fact Group B is really two distantly related groups known in the DNA project as Group B1 and Group B3. Each group shares the same basic haplotype with differences indicated in the following chart. They fall in the haplogroup R-P310. The main body of Group B3 includes descendants of John Meeks born about 1700 who resided in Pitt Co., NC. With different values in four markers (genetic distance of 4) any connection between Group B1 and B3 probably predates the settlement of the United States.

In the interest of completeness the Group B1 DNA signature has also been observed in a small number of other surnames. Some of these may be the result of non-paternity events. However, some surnames are thought to connect to the Meek family before the use of surnames and thus are not genealogically significant. In looking at the Meek families in Tennessee and Arkansas the focus remains Group B1 as indicated earlier.

The reader will have noticed limitation in what information DNA provides. In fact the DNA results do not, at this time, provide much guidance as to when the common ancestor lived. Additional participants in the DNA project may provide more clarity to that situation. However, as stated earlier, old fashioned genealogical research will be required to determine the relationships between the participants of the DNA project.

The important outcome from the DNA project is that that there is a high degree of probability that the families from Carroll Co., AR were related to each other and to the families from Washington Co., PA. Without connecting genealogies one cannot be 100% certain. But given the fairly unique DNA signature for Group B and the same surname there is little question that these men shared a common ancestor.

As the DNA project grows more information will become available. Some assumptions presented here will be modified or changed completely. However, new information will become available whether it is through DNA testing or genealogical research. Knowledge in one area enhances our understanding of the other.

Previous Books and Genealogies

In doing research for this book it appeared that there was no single comprehensive source for the Meek families of Tennessee and Arkansas. One would expect to find one or more books or commonly known genealogies from times past that people relied on to build their own genealogies. There may be one or two but this author is unaware of them. There are a fair number of simple genealogies that have been circulated or are now available on the Internet. However, these seem by and large to be disorganized and contradictory as if the authors did not have anything to guide them. Consequently there does not appear to have been a recognized basic structure for the families of Carroll Co., Arkansas who came from Tennessee in the 1830's.

Even today many people do not know that there were two separate families in Carroll County including Jeremiah T. Meek and John E. Meek of Osage Township and Jeremiah Meek and Jacob Meek of White Township, also known as Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob. The first group came from Henry Co., TN and the second group came from Blount Co., TN. Today there is probably only a couple of people who are researching these families that know about DNA testing and the fact that both groups are related to a group of men named Meek who settled in Washington Co., PA in the late 1700's.

Past research has been complicated by the presence of two men named Jeremiah Meek in Carroll County. Both had wives named Elizabeth or Betsy. Consequently both were said to have married Betsy Blevins in 1802. Even issues such as the middle initial of the Jeremiah in Osage Township was misinterpreted and then assigned to either man depending on which one people were aware of. Also present were two younger men named Jeremiah. One was the son of Shotgun Jerry in White Township, also with a wife named Elizabeth and the other was probably a son of John E. Meek of Osage Township.

It still seems odd that people had that much difficulty figuring out that there were two different families in two different townships. People tended to ignore basic facts such as ages and dates of marriage. Otherwise they would have never concluded that the Osage Township Jeremiah whose wife was born about 1795 had married Betsy Blevins in 1802.

If one collects a few dozen genealogies of these families over a period of time one will find that the facts are hopelessly intermingled between the two families. Even those people who seemed to have figured it out had submitted incorrect genealogies previously. An experienced researcher would have trouble knowing which ones were correct without doing in depth research on their own. However, it is possible to develop a correct genealogy if one does not get bogged down trying to make sense out of other people's incorrect work.

The problems with the early genealogies extend further back in time to Tennessee with the careless assignment of a progenitor. The Osage Township family is fairly well documented in Henry Co., TN. It is much more difficult to prove a connection between the White Township family and Blount Co., TN. However, because there is a well known marriage record for Jeremiah Meek and Betsy Blevins in 1802 most people jump right to Blount County without a second thought.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

While this author agrees that it is a proper line of inquiry there is really no hard evidence that the Jeremiah Meek who married Betsy Blevins is the same person as Shotgun Jerry in Carroll Co., AR. The more faint the trail grew the more careless people became in adding names to the family tree. The father of Jeremiah Meek and Jacob Meek of White Township has been identified alternately as Jeremiah Meek who died in 1783 in Westmoreland Co., PA, Jeremiah Lee Meek born 1780 from Indiana, Jeremiah Meek born about 1776 and almost every other person named Jeremiah Meek known to Meek researchers regardless of their ages.

It is not necessary to discuss again the false trail to Jacob Meek and Adam Meek of Lincolnshire, England. It is absolutely astounding that so many people have advocated for these progenitors with absolutely no evidence what so ever. And this extends beyond the Tennessee families.

Similar problems exist for Jacob Meek of Henry Co., TN the father of the Osage Township family. This Jacob Meek has been incorrectly equated with several other men named Jacob Meek. His situation is different in that he can be placed in Cumberland Co., KY before Tennessee. Cumberland County was near Pulaski Co., KY where other Meek families resided. More importantly it is now known through DNA testing that the Pulaski County families were related to both of the Carroll Co., AR/Tennessee families.

DNA leads to the Meek families who settled in Washington Co., PA in the later 1700's, including the ones in Pulaski Co., KY. Many of these men were about the same age as the Tennessee men. It is not known where Jacob Meek of Henry Co., TN and Jeremiah Meek of Blount Co., TN came from but the search involves the Pennsylvania families.

Summary-Who Was the Progenitor?

The underlying assumption of this book and many past and present genealogies is that the Meek(s) family of Carroll Co., AR came from Tennessee. Some but not all past researchers did not understand that there were two different families. One family included Jeremiah T. Meek and his brother John E. Meek who lived in Osage Township. The other family included Jeremiah Meeks and his probable brother Jacob who lived in White Township. They were also known as “Shotgun Jerry” and “Blue Jacob”.

While it is now known, as a result of DNA testing, that these two families were related there has been some question about that in the past. The Osage Township families were prominent members of the community. The White Township families were immortalized in early history books as people “...of Cherokee & English descent, whose society was not appreciated by their neighbors.” DNA analysis is inconclusive regarding how closely the two families were related although there is no question that they were related. Early results suggest that the two families may have been separated by several generations. There is no evidence that they even knew each other. This is a matter for future research. However, it is important that one not assume that they came from the same place during their own life time.

The evidence is fairly good that the Osage Township family came from Henry Co., TN in 1836 and 1837. The father of the family, Jacob Meek, is known to have owned land in Cumberland Co., KY and Pulaski Co., KY. Where Jacob came from before that is a matter of some interest.

The record is less specific regarding where the White Township family came from. Census records are fairly consistent that all of the children of Jacob and Jeremiah were born in Tennessee between 1806 and 1827. One census record indicates that a son was born in “East Tennessee”.

There is little evidence to extend the genealogy further back in time. There is only speculation. It appears to this author that the two Tennessee families, Jacob Meek of Henry County and Jeremiah and Jacob Meeks of Blount County, did not share the same father based on DNA evidence. They may not even have been first cousins. It is clear that one needs to pursue these connections along different research lines as they may have come from two different places.

Most people assume that the White TWP family came from Blount Co., TN. However there is no direct evidence of this. This author also believes that they came from Blount County largely because, in addition to census records and associates, there are no known alternatives families. The records do not indicate that they were in the areas where Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN lived. Other known Meek families in Tennessee are well documented and have a different DNA signature than that of Jeremiah Meeks. To believe that they did not come from Blount Co., TN one must believe that the White TWP family left no earlier footprint and the Blount Co., TN family left no later footprint.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Jacob Meeks appears in Blount Co., TN court records in 1795 and 1796. He was the bondsman for John Roberts in 1796. In 1802 Jeremiah Meeks married Betsy Blevins. William Blevins was an early explorer in East Tennessee. Members of his family moved to Carroll Co., AR including Isham Blevins, Richard Blevins and Black Squire Blevins. These men were also mentioned in the Goodspeed's history of Carroll Co., AR. It is a reasonable hypothesis that the Meeks in Blount County migrated west with the Blevins, Roberts and others and settled in White Township, Carroll Co., AR.

The name of the progenitor for the Blount County family is not known. Over the years much attention has focused on men named Jeremiah Meek or Jacob Meek. Some genealogies seem to have settled on Jeremiah Meek. While that is probably based mostly on naming patterns there appears to have been a man named Jeremiah Meek in early East Tennessee who was likely older than Jacob and Jeremiah who were born between 1760 and 1780.

Many genealogies end up with the ultimate progenitor being Jacob Meek born 1698 the son of Adam Meek of Lincolnshire, England. As shown in Chapter 1 the source for those stories wrote an incorrect genealogy that cannot be relied on. Most people who have written about the Tennessee families have never heard about H. B. Meek or read his book. They simply copy that part of the genealogy from someone else who probably has no idea where it came from either. One must avoid the temptation of believing that because something is written down it must be true. A bad genealogy is a bad genealogy no matter how many times it is repeated.

Although seldom mentioned in genealogies there was a person named Jeremiah Meek in east Tennessee as early as 1784. He owned land near Blount County from 1787 to 1796. He may or may not have been the same person who owned land in South Carolina in 1773. He appears to have been too old to have been Shotgun Jerry who likely lived until after 1840. However, he cannot be excluded from being the person who married Betsy Blevins in 1802 and/or the person who migrated to Carroll Co., AR with Jacob without more definitive information on their dates of birth.

Some have suggested that Jeremiah Meek who sold his land in 1796 was the same person as Jeremiah Meek (#A) who married Sarah Lee in 1731 Anne Arundel Co., MD. Unfortunately there are other reasonable possibilities for this person including Jeremiah Meeks (#1) who died in 1783 Westmoreland Co., PA not to mention the Jeremiah Meek (#2) who signed a will in 1790 Anne Arundel Co., MD. However, there is some question about the latter's age and he may not have been old enough to be married in 1731.

Some people have suggested that Jeremiah Meek who married Sarah Lee was the person who died in 1783 Westmoreland Co., PA and that he was the same person who sold land in 1796 Blount Co., TN. However, people who have made this claim have ignored the fact that he died before the land in Tennessee was granted to Jeremiah Meek. It was also noted earlier that the DNA for the probable descendants of the Westmoreland County Jeremiah does not match that of Jeremiah from Carroll Co., AR who is presumed to be the man or the son of the man who sold land in 1796 Blount County.

The remaining men named Jeremiah for which there is any information were all contemporaries of the Jeremiah who lived in White Township, Carroll Co., AR. In addition their histories are well known with the exception of the men in Pulaski Co., KY. There were no other known men in East Tennessee named Meek who were old enough to be the father of Jeremiah and Jacob or who have not been excluded by DNA.

This author believes that the Jeremiah who sold his land in 1796 was the father of Jacob Meeks, Jeremiah Meeks who married Betsy Blevins and Delilah Meek who married James Swagerty. However, it may not be possible to prove the matter one way or the other. The reasons for these conclusions are firstly the name Jeremiah Meek(s) was very uncommon before 1780. Secondly, there was an older person named Jeremiah born before 1755 who owned land in South Carolina. Thirdly, James Swaggerty witnessed Jeremiah's deed in 1796. He married Delilah Meek, born 1773, also in 1796. This is further evidence that Jeremiah may have been born before 1755. Fourthly, the ages of the known children of Jeremiah and Betsy suggest a younger father. There is no evidence of an older set of children. Finally, Jeremiah Meeks in White Township appears to have died between 1840 and 1850. If he had been nearly 100 years old it is unlikely that he would have attracted the attention of the citizens that he did and been given the nickname Shotgun Jerry.

This is all very shaky reasoning and very much subject to criticism. The fact remains that there is no evidence regarding where the Blount County Meek family came from or who progenitor was.

In Cumberland Co., KY in 1799 there was Jeremiah Meek over 21 with one male age 16 to 21. There were also two men named Jacob Meek in the county one of which has been identified as Jacob Meek of Bledsoe Co., TN. It is probable that this was the Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN in 1824 and whose sons went to Carroll Co., AR. Jacob Meek Jr. could have been the son of either of the two other men.

In 1801 and 1802 there were two men named Jeremiah and one named Jacob in Pulaski Co., KY who have been excluded from being sons of the other Meek settlers in the area. One might at this point say hold on just a minute, there are too many Jeremiahs. There are two in Blount Co., TN, one in Cumberland Co., KY, Two in Pulaski Co., KY, the son of Nathaniel and two several counties to the north in Henry Co., KY. For a name that is uncommon there was a large number of them in a relatively small area between Blount Co., TN and Henry Co., KY. One needs to consider the possibility that there was some duplication in the records between Cumberland and Pulaski Counties. This was a very remote wilderness with very little government to keep records.

On August 14, 1800 Henry Swisher assigns certificate #374 to Nathan Meek. The witnesses to this assignment were "Marey Meek and Jackub Meek". 1802 Pulaski tax list: "Nathan Sr.: May 21st. 100 ac. granted to Jeremiah Meek, 1 w/m +21". Jeremiah of Cumberland County had already sold his land in January of 1799. Jacob appears in the tax list in 1802. It seems quite possible that Jacob and Jeremiah Meek of Cumberland County were the same men in Pulaski County. The lack of tax and other records for Cumberland County after 1799 precludes a definitive statement on the matter.

It is impossible to discuss the Cumberland County families without looking at the other Meek families who lived in Pulaski Co., KY. Nathaniel Meek and Basil Meek born 1763 came to the area about 1797 from Washington Co., PA. Basil's land grant was dated 7

Aug 1798 and both were listed in the 1799 tax list. Their presence in Pulaski County close to Jacob Meek in Cumberland County might have been considered a coincidence were it not for the fact that DNA tests on their descendants reveals that Jacob Meek of Cumberland County was related to Nathaniel and Basil. These families also have a DNA match with other men from Washington Co., PA including Isaac Meek born 1746, Samuel Meek born 1732 and Elisha Meek born 1765.

There was an unidentified Jacob Meek in the 1783 tax list of Washington Co., PA. That person was not a son of the known ancestors from that county. There was also an unidentified person named Jeremiah Meek in the 1783 tax list of Washington Co., PA. It is not known if these two men migrated to Pulaski County with Nathaniel and Basil. However, one cannot ignore that possibility.

Census records, especially conflicting ones are a bad place to get the place of birth for a parent. Two of the daughters of Jacob Meek from Henry Co., TN lived to be recorded in the 1880 census. One entry lists the parents being born in Kentucky but Delilah's 1880 Erath Co., TX census records lists both parents being born in Pennsylvania. It seems unlikely that Jacob Meek born about 1760 was born in Kentucky. Daniel Boone did not go through the Cumberland Gap until 1775. At least one person in Delilah's family believed that Jacob Meek was born in Pennsylvania. This seems odd given that this was a southern family with no known connections to northern states. Jacob Meek may not have been born in Pennsylvania either but Delilah may have believed that her father came from that state.

It is known that Nathaniel Meek lived in Washington Co., PA before going to Pulaski Co., KY. In addition there was an unidentified man listed in the 1783 tax record of Washington County named Jacob Meek. There is no record of what happened to this Jacob Meek. It is known that Nathaniel and Jacob Meek of Cumberland Co., KY were related. Finally there is the census record indicating that Jacob was born in Pennsylvania. This data does not prove the fact but it suggests that further investigation is warranted.

There is some indication that Jeremiah in Pulaski Co., KY was older and the father of either Nathaniel and Basil or Jacob. He could not have been the father of both according to DNA analysis. One should not forget the presence of William Meek born about 1765 and younger Jeremiah. These men may have been related in some way.

In the final analysis the progenitor(s) of the Tennessee families cannot be determined. There is a set of facts that may or may not be connected. There are many unknowns. Thanks to DNA it is known that the family from Henry Co., TN and the family from Blount Co., TN were related. Many families that they were not related to is now known. But it is unquestionable that the search for the progenitor is tied up with several families from Washington Co., PA. Whether they all came from the same place in the United States or migrated independently is unknown.

Jacob Meek of Henry Co., TN

B51. Jacob Meek was born about 1760. This is an estimated date of birth and the actual date is unknown. One of Jacob's daughters, Delilah, reported in the 1880 Erath Co., TX census that both parents were born in Pennsylvania. At least one other child reports that their father was born in Kentucky, which is not likely given what is known about the settlement of Kentucky. His date and place of birth are not known. He died 10 Aug 1824 according to a Henry Co., TN court record dated March 1827. Jacob and his family are well documented in the court records of Henry County.

Census records of some of his grandchildren suggest that the family lived in Kentucky. The 1799 tax list of Cumberland Co., KY names Jacob Meek Sr., Jacob Meek Jr. and Jeremiah Meek all over the age of 21.

Cumberland County deed records from 1816 indicate that Jacob Meek of Bledsoe Co., TN sold his land in Cumberland County. Jacob (or his son, Jacob) may be the person buying land in Overton Co., TN deed "2 Dec 1805 George Gordon of Greene Co., TN to Jacob Meek of Jackson Co., TN". Deed Book A, page 303 dated 26 Feb 1808 shows that Jacob Meek sells land to Harris Hatcher. Cumberland Co., KY and Overton Co., TN at one time bordered each on the state line. In fact his land in Cumberland Co., KY may have been in Tennessee due to the dispute over the boundary between the two states.

Jacob Meek arrived in Bledsoe County when the county was first opened to settlers. He is listed in Tennessee Homesteaders and Landowners by Willis Hutcherson on page 15;

"185 acres to Jacob Meek assignee of John Hudson on 23 Aug 1808. Held by right of settlement...in Squachey Valley, joining lines with Conrad Kimm and E. Hicks. Chairmen were Elijah Hicks and Eli Keith".

Jacob Meek purchased 56 acres on Sequatchee River in Bledsoe County in 1811 for $150.00 from John Julian. The deed was witnessed by Michael Rawlings and David Gilbreath. (SLC Film #593010 A-D)

This Jacob Meek can be identified as the person who died in Henry Co., TN in 1824. His daughter Nancy was married in Cumberland County in 1800. Jacob Meek signed a petition in Bledsoe County to the General Assembly in 1813.

21-2-1813 "State of Tennessee, Bledsoe County To the Honourable, the General Assembly, of the State of Tennessee now in Session Whereas, John MISER, Tobias LONG, Wm BLEAVINS, Robert Long, John JULIAN and William HAIL were bound in a Regagnizance as Securities for the appearance of a certain Joseph PATE, against whom the State of Tennessee had instituted a prosecution

And your petitioners will pray etc. John Miser Tobias Long

Those signing, among others, were Jacob Meek, John Meek, Jacob Meek Sn., and Jeremiah Meek. Eli Keith also signed.

Knox Co., TN court minutes No. 3A 1810-1817, page 36-37 refers to the same matter mentioned in the 1813 petition. This record also names Mary Meek, Sally Meek and Henry Meek in addition to Jacob Meek and Jeremiah Meek.

Jacob Meek's name first appears in a Henry Co., TN deed record in 1822. On 15 Oct 1822 he purchased 500 acres on the Middle Fork of the Obion River in Range 4, Section 6 entered by Polk and Deveraux. A probate record dated 13 Jun 1827 lists his wife, Mary. Other's benefiting from his estate were John Meek, Jacob Meek, Jeremiah Meek, Henry, and other children. Sally in the Knox County records is believed to be Jacob's daughter Sarah. Eli Keith is believed to be the husband of Jacob's daughter Elizabeth. No other Meek families can be detected in Henry Co., TN during this time frame. There is no other known group of people named Meek that could account for the names in the 1813 Bledsoe Co., TN petition. The totality of information supports the hypothesis that Jacob Meek in Cumberland Co., KY was the same person who died in Henry Co., TN in 1824.

Jacob married Mary _____, She was living in Henry County in 1835. She may be the elderly person in the 1840 Carroll Co., AR census living with John E. Meek. A Henry Co., TN deed record dated 19 Feb 1835 transfers 300 acres previously belonging to Jacob Meek, deceased, to John E. Meek. The deed identifies all of the children and the daughter's spouses except Isaac, Rachel and Nancy who had already died.

Two descendants from Jacob's son Jeremiah and one descendant from his brother Henry have 37 markers Y-DNA results from Family Tree DNA which establishes ancestral values for Jacob Meek. Jacob's ancestral values match the ancestral values for Meek Project Group B with two mutations. Jeremiah Meek known as "Shotgun Jerry" has one descendant which is a 37-37 marker match with the Group B ancestral values.

11. John E. Meek was born between 1780 and 1790 according to the 1830-1840 censuses. A Henry Co., TN deed record records the sell of 16 2/3 acres to John Witt which was part of Jacob Meeks estate. He married Susannah _____ according to deed records from Henry Co., TN. She was born between 1790 and 1800. He was listed in the 1830 census of Henry Co., TN with 4 males and 5 females. He was living in Henry Co., TN in Feb 1835 according to deed records. He was listed in the 1840 census of Carroll Co., AR with 3 males and 3 females.

12. Jacob W. Meek was born between 1780 and 1790 according to the 1830 census. A Henry Co., TN deed record records the sell of 16 2/3 acres to John Witt which was part of Jacob Meeks estate. Recorded with him in 1830 were 8 males and 5 female including a likely wife born between 1790 and 1800. He is mentioned in deed and court records of Henry Co., TN with the widow Meek, his brothers and his brother-in-laws. He was living in Henry Co., TN in Feb 1835 according to deed records.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Note: There was a Jacob W. Meek born between 1780 and 1790 listed in the 1840 census of Holmes Co., MS. (1-0-2-0-0-0-1//0-1-0-0-0-1) In the 1850 census of Holmes list families Jonah Meek, age 30, and Calloway Meek, age 25, both born in Tennessee. Living with Calloway was Nancy age 56 born in Tennessee. Nancy was the appropriate age to be wife in the 1840 census. A descendant of William Wesley Meek born 1812 in Tennessee has a DNA match the descendant of Jacob Meek who died in Henry Co., TN. William's children were born in Mississippi. HOWEVER, none of this proves that Jacob moved to Mississippi.

13. Jeremiah T. Meek was born about 1788 according to census records. Census records do not provide a clear picture of his place of birth. A Henry Co., TN deed record dated 24 Dec 1829 Jeremiah sells 16 2/3 acres of land. It is described as "A track of land on the waters of Middle Fork of the Obion River part of 500 acres granted to Polk & Devereaux the same that Jacob Meek, deceased, lived and died on ...". Other children of Jacob Meek have similar deeds selling 16 2/3 acres some of which describe them as heirs or as daughters of Jacob Meek. Jeremiah's name appears on many records with other children of Jacob Meek.

He was listed in the 1830 census of Henry Co., TN born between 1780 and 1790. On 5 Dec 1831 he was appointed administrator of the estate of Isaac Meek, a brother. He was living in Henry Co., TN in Feb 1835 according to deed records.

He was listed in 1837 and 1840 tax list of Carroll Co., AR. He is listed in the 1840 census of Carroll Co., AR. He was listed in the 1850 census of Carrollton, Carroll Co., AR with his wife and two sons.

Elizabeth, 55, F, -, -, KY, could not read/write

William W., 20, M, Farmer, -, Tenn

Joseph J., 19, M, Farmer, -, Do (Tenn)

Note1: Elizabeth is not Betsy Blevins. Betsy Blevins married Jeremiah Meek in 1802 according to Blount Co., TN marriage records. This Elizabeth is too young to have been married in 1802. Jeremiah would only have been 14.

Note2: Jeremiah's place of birth is undecipherable to this writer. Even if it says Georgia that is arguably not true. There is nothing to indicate that Jeremiah's father ever lived in Georgia but where he was about 1788 is unknown. The 1860 census of Bell Co., TX lists J. J. Meek age 29 with wife Minerva also lists J. T. Meek age 71. The place of birth is also undecipherable. The 1880 census lists Jeremiah's children Jacob A., Samuel and Elizabeth where the father's birth place is given as Tennessee, Georgia and North Carolina. A census record for Jeremiah's younger sister Delilah says she was born in Tennessee which is consistent with her father's known movement at that time. Delilah's census record also says that her father (Jacob) was born in Pennsylvania. Jacob lived near Nathaniel Meek in Pulaski Co., KY and DNA proves that they were related. Nathaniel came from Washington Co., PA. Where Jeremiah was born remains an important mystery.

He signed a petition in Nov 1853 in Bell Co., TX and appears in the 1860 census with his son Joseph. His will was dated 26 Oct 1868 and probated 21 Sep 1868 in Bell Co., TX.

He married Elizabeth D. Spencer 5 Sep 1809 in Casey Co., KY. She was born about 1795 in Kentucky according to the 1850 census although her date of marriage might suggest an earlier birth date..

A petition for divorce dated 5 Nov 1856 in Bell Co., TX names Jeremiah T. Meek and Elizabeth D. Spencer. In the petition Jeremiah stated that Elizabeth abandoned him on 8 Mar 1852. He gave his wife's maiden name who was not present for the proceedings. He further states that they were married 5 Sep 1809 in Casey Co., KY. Jeremiah consistently used the middle initial T throughout his life. He is listed in other records of Bell County. His wife's name was Elizabeth and they would have been married about 1810. The divorce data was provided by Patricia Spencer Jan 2012.

It is believed that Jeremiah's parents lived near Nathaniel Meek in Pulaski Co., KY. Y-DNA proves that he was related to Nathaniel Meek. Amasa Spencer was a close associate of Nathaniel, their families having intermarried at several points. The will of Amasa Spencer was recorded July 21, 1841 (1846) in Jennings Co., IN, will record Vol. I Sept. 20, 1842--August 26, 1862. This will specifically mentions a daughter named Betsy Meek. However, unverified genealogical information regarding Amasa Spencer's daughter Elizabeth conflicts with that of Jeremiah Meek's wife regarding the date of birth.

Chapter 8 Jacob Meek of Carroll Co., AR

2. Jacob Meek was born about 1764 based on census records. His place of birth is unknown. When and where he died is unknown. He was likely the person who signed the marriage bond for John Robert on 9 Dec 1796 in Blount Co., TN. His son Lorenzo was reported in the 1865 Kansas census as being born in East Tennessee. He was likely the same person listed in the 1830 census of Cape Girardeau, MO. Also listed were John Roberts and several Blevins who later went to Carroll Co., AR. He was listed in the 1832 and 1833 tax list of IZARD Co., AR. He was listed in the 1834 and 1837 tax lists of Carroll Co., AR. He was listed in the 1840 census of White TWP Carroll Co., AR age 70-80. (Note: Carroll County was formed in 1833 from IZARD County. Newton County was formed in 1842 from Carroll County.) He was listed in the 1850 census of Navarro Co., TX living near his children.

He was immortalized in Goodspeed's History of Northwest Arkansas AR, Page 335:

"1832 on Long Creek below Carrollton. There were then living in the vicinity of Carrollton, Martin Standridge, his father, "Shot-Gun" Jerry Meeks and his brother, "Blue" Jacob Meeks, "Black Squire Blevins, Richard Blevins, Sam Blevins & others of Cherokee & English descent, whose society was not appreciated by their neighbors. They were from Georgia and had not been living in this county many years prior to 1832."

Note: While some members of the larger group may have been from Georgia, there is no evidence that the Meeks were from Georgia.

His wife was not in the 1840 census and is unknown. (Note: Many people have reported that he married Sarah Blevins, a sister to Elizabeth who married Jacob's probable brother Jeremiah. However, the source for this is unknown.) There is no evidence known to this author to prove who Jacob's children were. It is assumed that those people who moved from Carroll Co., AR to Navarro Co., TX are more likely to be Jacob's children than those of any person named Meek. This descendant chart is highly speculative.

11. George Washington Meek was born in 1807 in Tennessee. He was probably the person named Washington in the 1834-1838 tax lists of Carroll Co., AR. 14. William Meek was born about 1818 based on military records. He died 9 Mar 1863 in Fayetteville, Washington Co., AR while serving in the Army as he and other soldiers were murdered with poison by a local merchant. He enlisted in Company C, Arkansas 1st Infantry Regiment on 12 Feb 1863 at Fayetteville, AR. A significant portion of what is known with any degree of certainty about William Meek comes from the pension record of his wife Mary

He was likely the person named William Meek listed in the 1840 census of White TWP, Carroll Co., TX (1-0-0-0-1//1-0-0-0-1). This is based on three facts; first his wife states in her pension application that they were married in Carroll Co., AR in 1836 and second his family described in his wife's pension application is listed in the 1850 Navarro Co., TX next to other Meek households that were previously listed in the 1840 census of Carroll Co., AR. However, he was not listed with his family in the 1850 census of Navarro Co., TX and none of the family can be found in the 1860 census. The ages given in the census are consistent with other records. Jeremiah Meek AKA "Shotgun Jerry" had a son named William Meek born about 1821 who had also lived in White Township. This William was listed in the 1850 census of Milam Co., TX with wife, Mary age 23 and no children. William W. Meek born about 1830 lived in Osage Township. This William was listed with his father, Jeremiah T. Meek, in the 1850 census of Carroll Co., AR presumably single.

He married Mary Wallace 8 Nov 1836 in Carrollton, Carroll Co., AR according to Mary's pension application. She was born about 1814 in Tennessee based on census records. Mary applied for a pension 11 Feb 1865 in Riley Co., KS based on the service of William Meek born about 1818. Mary stated in the application that her maiden name was Wallace. She stated that she had 6 children with William Meek with 4 living at that time. They were Elizabeth, Sarah, Rhoda and Perlina. Supporting statements by Jacob Meek and Lorenzo D. Meek were included in the record.

The Meek/Meeks Family of Tennessee and Arkansas

Mary was listed in the 1850 census of Navarro Co., TX with five children including the four girls mentioned in her later pension application. Also listed on the same page were Jacob Meek Jr. age 27 TN and Lorenzo D. Meek age 37 in addition to other men named Meek who came from Carroll Co., AR about 1845. It is unknown whether William's absence was temporary. However she continued her relationship with him family for many years.

She was listed in the 1865 Kansas census of Riley Co., KS dated 10 May 1865 with her four daughters in the household of Jacob Meek age 48 TN. Also listed was James Meek age 17 TX. It is believed that Jacob Meek was the same person who provided a statement dated 31 Jul 1865 for her pension application. It is believed that he was a relative by marriage rather than a husband because in the 13 May 1866 marriage certificate for her daughter, Sarah, stated that Sarah was married at the home of "her Uncle Jacob Meek". In 1850 Jacob Meek was listed separately from Mary and her children. James Meek age 17 is not a son of Mary's and is probably a son of Jacob or other relative of Jacob's. Lorenzo D. Meek age 51 was also listed in the 1865 census of Riley Co., KS.

Mary Meek was listed in the 1870 census of Hill Co., TX at age 55 TN with the families of three daughters Elizabeth Hopper age 31 AR, Loda (Rhoda) Ham age 25 AR and Perline Schelonsky age 21 AR.

193. Sarah Meek was born Aug 1843 in Arkansas according to the 1900 census of Ottawa Co., KS. She died 1908 in Natoma, KS. She married (1) Charles Branscom 13 May 1866 in Riley Co., KS according to marriage records which say that she was married at the home of her "Uncle Jacob Meek". She appears in the 1870 census with her husband. She was age 26 born in Arkansas. Charles Branscom was born 3 March 1843. He died 9 Oct 1878. They were listed in the 1870 census of Riley Co., KS. Her age was given as 26 born in Arkansas. Sarah married (2) John Hill about 1879. They were listed in the 1880 census of Osborne Co., KS. She was age 38 born in Arkansas. They were listed with her Branscom children. She was recorded in the 1900 census Ottawa Co., KS as Sarah Branscom living with her son Edward Branscom and was listed as his mother. She was also listed in the 1905 Kansas census of Rooks Co., KS age 64 living with her son James.

It is not known whether she was a daughter of Jacob Sr. or the wife of Jacob Jr. He was listed in the 1865 Kansas census of Riley Co., KS. This Jacob was not Jacob C. Meek who was listed in the 1850 census of Milam Co., TX. age 23 TN listed with Mary A. Meek age 17 MS. Some people report this Person as Jacob Clinton Meek b: 1823 married to Mary Ann Crocket b: 1823.

17. Elizabeth Meek married Squire Blevins. (Source for this child is unknown.)

18. Sally Meek was born about 1827 in Tennessee. She resided with his father in the 1850 census BUT may actually be the wife of Jacob born 1823.

Chapter 9 Jeremiah Meek of Carroll Co., AR

3. Jeremiah Meek was born between 1771 and 1780. His place of birth is unknown. He lived in Blount Co., TN in 1802. He was listed in the 1831 and 1833 tax list of Izard Co., AR. He was listed in the 1834 and 1837 tax list of Carroll Co., AR. He was probably the person age 60-70 listed with John Meek in the 1840 census of White Township, Carroll Co., AR. (Later Newton County.) (Note: Carroll County was formed in 1833 from Izard County. Newton County was formed in 1842 from Carroll County.) This person is not Jeremiah T. Meek who resided in Osage Township.

He was immortalized in Goodspeed's History of Northwest Arkansas AR, Page 335:

"1832 on Long Creek below Carrollton. There were then living in the vicinity of Carrollton, Martin Standridge, his father, "Shot-Gun" Jerry Meeks and his brother, "Blue" Jacob Meeks, "Black Squire Blevins, Richard Blevins, Sam Blevins & others of Cherokee & English descent, whose society was not appreciated by their neighbors. They were from Georgia and had not been living in this county many years prior to 1832."

Note: While some members of the larger group may have been from Georgia, there is no evidence that the Meeks were from Georgia.

One descendant from Jeremiah's son Lewis and one descendant from his son George have 37 markers Y-DNA results from Family Tree DNA which establishes ancestral values for Jeremiah Meek. Jeremiah's ancestral values match the ancestral values for Meek Project Group B perfectly. The analysis is problematic because there is no proof that Lewis and George were sons of Jeremiah. However, Y-DNA proves that while related they did not descend from Jacob Meek who died in 1824 Henry Co., TN or Jeremiah T. Meek who lived in Carroll Co., AR. No other known Group B ancestor went Arkansas or Texas before 1850.

While this book is not about the Pennsylvania families they are presented here to give the reader an idea of the scope of those families related to the Tennessee families based on DNA testing. The connection between them is unknown and could pre-date their arrival in America. There are other early ancestors born after 1800 whose connection is also unknown.

Epilog

It is hoped that this book will help current and future genealogists have an easier road in the search for their ancestors from Arkansas and Tennessee. The past has been difficult and there are many misleading family histories available today. This book is not intended as the last word on the Arkansas/Tennessee families. It is a beginning that hopefully makes the road ahead less cluttered with incorrect data. But there are no easy answers and much work needs to be done.

We have examined the myths and mistakes from the past. We have looked at what information is available in actual records and tried to avoid speculative and undocumented theories. Hopefully a sound family structure has been provided as a starting point.

There were two different families in Carroll Co., AR in the 1830's and 1840's. The Osage Township family included Jeremiah T. Meek and John E. Meek. The White Township family included Jeremiah Meek and Jacob Meek also known as Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob. They were related but it is not known how closely. They both came from Tennessee but from different areas.

It is believed that Jacob Meek who died in 1824 Henry Co., TN was the father of the Osage Township family. It is believed that Jeremiah Meek who sold his land in 1796 Blount Co., TN was the father of the White Township family. This takes the paper trail back to about 1800. However, the evidence is not conclusive in either case and we all need to be aware that new evidence may become available in the future that contradicts this hypothesis or provides an alternative hypothesis.

The Y-DNA results are very significant in that they show three important facts. (1) They show that the Osage Township family and the White Township family were related. (2) They show that both families were related to a group of Meek families who lived in Washington Co., PA at or before the time that the Meeks went to Tennessee. (3) The Osage Township family has a unique DNA signature within the larger Group B signature.

The DNA results are inconclusive about how closely the two families were related. Said another way we do not know when the common ancestor lived and it may have been before the different families came to America. The results can be interpreted in two different ways. There are two key mutations for the Osage Township family which are not present for the White Township family. This may indicate a greater distance to the common ancestor. On the other hand the larger Washington Co., PA group tends to have a higher than normal number of mutations than the general population. In that regard the Y-DNA for the Osage township family may be very consistent with all of these related people. This interpretation would provide a neutral inference regarding the length of time to the common ancestor.

There is no evidence to extend either family further back in time. However, it seems almost impossible for people not to speculate about the matter. Hopefully this book has dispelled any notion that the genealogy extends back to Jacob and Adam Meek of Lincolnshire, England. The original source for this contention has been proven to be a very bad piece of genealogy.

Y-DNA evidence has now shown that most of the known pre-Revolutionary War Meek ancestors could not have been the progenitor of the Arkansas/Tennessee families. Of those remaining known ancestors who were old enough none stand out. In this author's opinion the next progenitor on the tree would have to have been born before 1745 and probably earlier.

Given the number of Tennessee and Pennsylvania ancestors it also seems that we are looking for a large family where the given names of Jacob and Jeremiah are used. When all of these criteria are used the only family in the United States that would match is the Guy Meek family of Maryland. This family has not previously been discussed and there is NO EVIDENCE or DNA that would lead anyone to connect them to the Tennessee/Arkansas families. However, we are also looking at a period in time when there were many people in the British Isles and Europe who were migrating to America, especially to North Carolina and South Carolina.

The most immediate line of inquiry should be the connection between the Tennessee families and the Pennsylvania families. It is noted with strong emphasis that there is very little evidence regarding where either Jacob Meek from Henry Co., TN or Jeremiah Meek of Blount Co., TN came from. There are hints that Jacob may have come from Pennsylvania and that Jeremiah may have come from South Carolina. It will be difficult to find hard evidence for either proposition. Beyond this the hard work of documenting each and every descendant should continue. In the end this is the bread and butter of genealogy.

This book will remain in electronic format in the foreseeable future rather than being put in hard copy format. Send any corrections or comments to chrismEEK@aol.com

The 1840 and 1841 tax lists are abstracts and it is always hard to draw conclusion from the position on the list. However, they both appear to have the Osage TWP family grouped together and the White TWP family grouped together. They closely match the 1840 census.

From these we know that the Jeremiah born 1788 was known as Jeremiah T. Meek. We know that his brother was referred to as John E. Meek born between 1780 and 1790. His son Jacob was known as Jacob Meek or J. A. Meek. Jeremiah T. Meek also had a brother named Jacob W. Meek born between 1780 and 1790. However, it is not clear that this person came to Carroll County.

From the 1840 records we can work backwards through the tax records. The 1837 tax list contains the most names. The lack of names in the other tax lists does not mean that the people were not there. Jeremiah T. Meek and son, Jacob A. Meek, can be identified. Jacob A. Meek also appears in the 1836 tax list. Sons of Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob, Moses, Lewis, Lorenzo Dow and Simeon, can also be identified. Washington and Moses are also in the 1834 tax list.

The question regarding the 1837 tax list is; what was the identity of the men named Jacob, John, Jeremiah Sr., and Jeremiah Jr. We have already identified Jeremiah T. and son, Jacob A. Of Osage TWP. We know that the brother of Jeremiah T, John E. came to Carroll County and was in the 1840 census and tax list. We also have reason to believe that John born 1806, son of Shotgun Jerry was also in the 1840 census and tax list. Since there are two John's listed it seems both men were in the 1837 tax list.

The single person named John in the 1835 tax list cannot be identified. However, a case can be made that the Osage County family did not arrive until 1836. On the other hand we can identify Moses and Washington of the White TWP family in the 1834 census.

Blue Jacob is listed in the 1840 census and tax list. Since two of his sons are listed in 1837 it is reasonable to assume that he was also the Jacob in the 1837 tax list.

That leaves Jeremiah Sr. and Jeremiah Jr. to be identified. Jeremiah T. Meek has already been identified. This is complicated by the fact that there is a stray Jeremiah age 30-40 in the 1840 census of Osage TWP. Shotgun Jerry had a son Jeremiah and he is likely the Jeremiah age 20-30 in the White TWP census of 1840. It is also assumed that Shotgun Jerry is the male age 60-70 with John Meek in White TWP. My best guess is that Jeremiah Jr. is the son of Shotgun Jerry. There is at least a possibility that Shotgun Jerry is Jeremiah Sr. but it could be the Jeremiah from White TWP age 30-40.

That leaves the question of the identity of Jeremiah and Jacob in the 1834 tax list.

We know that Jacob A. Meek of Osage TWP was married in November of 1834 in Tennessee. Thus he cannot be the Jacob in the 1834 tax list. One cannot exclude Jacob, brother of Jeremiah T. Meek as a possibility. However, if this person did come to Carroll County he did not leave much of a foot print. There is anecdotal evidence that the Osage County family did not arrive until 1835 or most likely 1836. At the same time we know that there was at least one son of both Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob in the 1834 census.

Therefore, it appears that Shotgun Jerry and Blue Jacob are Jeremiah and Jacob in the 1834 tax list.

Regarding John Meek 1840 White TWP census. The oldest male is age 60-70 and the next youngest male is age 30-40. It is believed that the person age 60-70 is Shotgun Jerry. He had a son named John born 1806. A person named John Meek appears consistently in the White TWP tax list. There is no evidence of an older person named John Meek other than John E. from Osage TWP who is listed in the 1840 census of that TWP.

John Meek's Birth Date

John Meek who married Jennie was one of the better known ancestors in these families. John's date of birth has been widely reported as being 1806. However, this author has been unable to find any reliable source for that date. It appears that this date is based on the 1850 census which in earlier times may have been one of the few sources readily available to many researchers.

Today other census records are readily available as well as some court records including those from the U.S. Southern Claims Commission. These records provide no consistency what so ever for John's date of birth, even when we know that John is giving the information.

Census records have unknown informant who may or may not have had accurate knowledge of people's ages. In addition, errors by the census takers were common. John signed with his mark and was not a literate person. Some of the documents available to this author were written by other people based on what John told them. John was in his 60's and 70's during this time. These are situations also prone to mistakes.

If I were to put a date on his year of birth I would say between 1802 and 1805. His probable parents, Jeremiah and Betsy, were married in February 1802. But of course a formal marriage might have little to do with when they started living together on the frontier. The bottom line is that John's date of birth is not known.

U.S. Southern Claims Commission Claim #20050

John Meek (DOB: 1799-1800)

Date 21 May 1873 Benton Co., AR, submitted 5 Jun 1873

Cause: Indictment for Robbery

...and that JEREMIAH MEEK is guilty of the Felonious taking and carrying away as charged in the bill of Indictment under the value of twelve cents without violence or putting in fear...

P113

JEREMIAH MEEK acknowledges himself indebted to the State of Tennessee in the sum of one thousand Dollars and JACOB MEEK SENR. & Moses Robinet in the same of five hundred Dollars to be levied of their respective Goods and Chattels Lands and Tenements to be void on condition JEREMIAH MEEK keep the peace for one year and one days towards the Citizens of this State But more especially towards Jonathan Bozzle and Ann Bozzle.

(This is the first reference to Jacob Meek other than the 1782 petition. The fact that he is listed as Senior is puzzling since there are no other Jacobs in the records that we know of. I have written that Jacob Meek served on a jury but I cannot find that now. Jeremiah's crime is consistent with what was written in the History of Carroll Co., AR. Shot-gun Jerry Meeks and Blue Jacob Meeks "...whose society was not appreciated by their neighbors.")
